

Call for papers

Journal Innovación Educativa

Volumen 14, issue 66 september-december, 2014

A four-monthly Journal of the Instituto Politécnico Nacional, México

Researchers, docents, postgraduate students and the academic community in general to contribute unpublished research articles, in Spanish or English, to the thematic section Aleph of issue 66 focused on:

“Arts education in the innovation and learning of sciences”

The following relevant topics will be considered, though not exclusively:

- The role of arts education in learning sciences.
- Artistic practices to promote creativity and innovation.
- The influence of arts education in critical thinking and the construction of citizenship.
- Engineers today: social, creative and aesthetic solutions to contemporary problems.
- The arts and their relation to the ethical and social dimension of contemporary youth
- Educational models that have integrated arts education in non-artistic courses.
- Aesthetics and its relation to scientific and technological education.

CONVOCATORIA

66

-• Innovation without creativity? Creativity without humanism nor ethics?
Humanism without us?

Consult the guidelines for sending originals at: www.innovacion.ipn.mx

Send all contributions to innova@ipn.mx with copy to coord.ed.rie@gmail.com

Reception deadline for the thematic section of issue 66: August 30, 2014

Innovación Educativa (ISSN 1665-2673) is an indexed, blind peer-reviewed, international journal that publishes specialized research and works on educational innovation.